BARGAINS.

Not that we have not had Bargains, but just the contrary. They have been such frequent occurrences that we did not need to mention the word, as everybody recognizes the fact that our goods are always sold lower than those who are forever harping on an expression which they make meaningless by continually applying it to unsatisfactory qualities.

But Now We Say It with Emphasis

And give to it all its true power by backing the statement with figures that will appeal to every bargain seeker and bargain lover in Guthrie. Thus we will wind up our December business with one of the greatest and most seasonable offerings which has ever been emptied in

SHE FELT HIS DEATH.

ALTHOUGH IT OCCURRED ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE CURTAIN.

A Decided Deceiver for the Votaries of Occultism and Very Strong Confirmation of the Faith of Believers in Telepathy.

G. H. Miles, a traveling man out of New Orleans, is in the city. In conversation with THE LEADER scribe yesterday he told of a very curious circumstance, that may be looked upon as a confirmation of the doctrine of mental telepathy, which took place in that city recently in a family of importance in the history of the state. The family members among his members a lady and her twin brother, a young man who for the past few years has been in business in New Zealand, but who was expected home on a visit to his sister.

One evening lately the lady was sitting surrounded by friends, when all at once she gave a piercing cry, and placing her hand to her side fell fainting to the floor. On reviving, she declared that she had been suddenly stabbed just above the heart, and under the left arm, indicating the spots. She was assured that she was laboring under the worst case of imagination, but was hard to convince that this was the case, so plainly had she felt the knife enter the body.

That night a little daughter was born to her, and the child was found to be marked on the places indicated by the mother as the wounds she had imagined. The marks on the child looked as if they might be the cicatrix of old knife wounds. The next day a cablegram was received from friends of the twin brother in New Zealand informing the sister that he had been stabbed to death by a native in a quarrel, and the date given of the young man's death was that of the night when his sister had felt the pang of a knife entering her own body.

She prevailed on her husband to inquire by cable where her brother's murderer had struck him, and to complete the coincidence learned that he had been stabbed twice, once above the heart and again under the left arm. She is convinced that through her affinity with her brother she felt his death even as he received it.

THE SOCIAL WORLD.

Social life in the capital has been rather gay the past week. Dances and parties followed in quick succession and the society folks have enjoyed themselves to the full. The leading events of the week were the card party of Miss Ellie Painter on Wednesday night; the Capital City club's hop on Wednesday night; the society minstrels on Thursday night, and the masquerade ball at the McKennon on last evening. All were enjoyable events.

A COLD-BLOODED MURDER.

J. J. Derr Shot Dead in His Own Barnyard by Parties in Ambush.

John J. Derr, a farmer residing seven miles southwest of the city, was shot through the head and instantly killed by unknown parties at 9 o'clock Friday night. The murdered man was standing near his barn with a shotgun in his hand when the fatal shot was fired. The news of the murder was brought to the city by George Derr, a son of the murdered man, and Sheriff Painter and Coroner Reeder went out and held an inquest over the remains yesterday.

Only one shot was fired and the wound, which was over the left eye, was ghastly. Yesterday George Derr appeared in Judge Morgan's court and swore out warrants against Simon H. Foss, Lou Belleville, Ed Belleville, Frank Belleville, Ben Smith and P. S. Harris, charging them with the murder of his father.

Foss was arrested yesterday at his home near Kingfisher. The other men live near the Derr house, but have not been arrested as yet.

It is alleged that a feud has existed between the Derrs and Foss, and that the murder was the result. The barn of the murdered man was fired recently, his dogs poisoned, and shot have been fired at his house after night. George Derr claims all this has been done by Foss. He was whipped by George Derr for being too intimate with his father's sister. The case is a sad one and has an upright and honest man and a good citizen.

SHE FEELS GRATEFUL.

Mrs. Bamey, of the Novelty Store, Extends Thanks to Her Patrons.

The coming of the new year causes me to drop into a reminiscent mood. The year just closing to a close has been a successful and profitable one for me, pecuniarily and otherwise and I take this method of extending and returning my sincere and heartfelt thanks to my friends and patrons who have been so good and kind to me.

The Novelty Store is a fixture in Guthrie, and by selling fresh goods at reasonable prices and by fair dealing, I have built up and have enjoyed a good trade. Competition, naturally, has been great, but I fully realize that competition is the life of trade.

I start on the New Year with a large and complete stock of the latest novelties, and I hope the new year will treat me as well as the old. Again thanking my friends and customers for their kindness in patronizing me, and promising to continue the same.
